Proudly Serving South Africa's Mining Heartland

Based in Burgersfort at the heart of Limpopo's platinum and chrome belt, Mokaila has built a reputation as a trusted supplier of premium hydraulic hoses and fittings from Dynamische, Semperit, and Sinopulse. We understand the unique demands of South African mining operations, from the intense heat of open-cast environments to the rigorous safety requirements of underground workings. Our partnerships with these internationally recognised brands allow us to deliver world-class products while providing the local expertise and rapid response times that keep Bushveld operations running efficiently.

Local Support, International Standards

As a Limpopo-based business, Mokaila combines the convenience of local supply with products that meet stringent international quality standards. We hold adequate stock to service urgent breakdowns because we know that in mining, every hour counts. Our team understands the industry, speaks your language, and delivers directly to your site. When you partner with Mokaila for your Dynamische, Semperit, and Sinopulse requirements, you're supporting local enterprise while ensuring your operation benefits from the finest hydraulic solutions available in Southern Africa.

Quality You Can Rely On in Tough Conditions

South African mines operate under some of the most challenging conditions on the planet, and equipment failure is simply not an option. Our Dynamische hydraulic hoses carry MSHA certification essential for underground operations, while Sinopulse high-temperature hoses withstand the extreme heat common across our region. Semperit fittings bring European precision engineering to every assembly we supply. Whether you're operating in Steelpoort, Phalaborwa, or across the Mpumalanga coalfields, our products are proven performers that reduce costly downtime and keep your machinery moving.
